The time arrived for my husband to enter Residential Care. Where do you start looking? You check all the places you know of, heard about and have referrals to keep in mind. To find Residential Care that is in a handy location and has everything you wish to find with a room available is NOT easy. The Residential Care I found was not on my list. It was not even considered as I had already made up my mind that it would not be suitable as I vaguely knew of its existence from the 1980s. My mind was already made up that this was "too old". I really knew nothing about this place. I certainly did not consider that renovations or additions might have been carried out. I advise everyone needing Care for a loved one to check all Residential Care Homes. You WILL be surprised. I am so happy I found the right Nursing Home for my husband as this Home has a great atmosphere, warm friendly staff and willing carers to take care of him, wonderful garden areas to enjoy etc. etc. He has his own room with ensuite and a lovely bay window overlooking a rose garden. Perfect!

Never enough care staff and nurses. Bells not always answered in a timely manner. The staff are really engaging and helpful though.
