Very caring committed bedside carers Not always well supported by managers Like most places insufficient Div 1 nurses putting strain on them as PCAs well meaning but undereducated with exception of a few amazing ones My mothers end of life palliative care managed sensitively and with love and skill.I was looked after and allowed to be in her room 24 hrs day She was there 12 years and considered it her home When more able she enjoyed a diverse activity schedule However diversional therapy resources and excursions seemed to be drastically cut in last years Food once very tasty , varied and homestyle deteriorated and was very variable in quality depending on actual cook on duty Some looked and tasted terrible Overall a safe and caring environment despite budgetary impacts on extras and even activities and staff retention
